

We did not need to go so far as Jo's Holland beach. We sat in the waves to eat the toffee breaking it was difficult-we were very sticky.

After an hour of talking & sucking we were surprised how sticky we were.

It was delicious.

At 5 o

clock we felt sick!

Home quickly to clean up but feeling unwell.

It was in our hair.

George-Andre- hee panic thus -& wondered if there was a clean shirt at home ! Some we wash-some go to the Clacton Laundry

It had a verandah chalet house with strange tall

pink-mauve

flowers that

Lennie says 'have come in with Overseas Trade-seeds caught in packing'

Not sure of clean shirt ! So Andre-George washed himself in the sea wearing the shirt at first- then took it off- scrubbed it better & put it on again to dry on the way home.

We made a cup of tea at home after we had got ourselves un-sticky washing everywhere-

We felt a bit better.

There was a clean shirt!

We will not do it again this holiday. Half a bar or less was best.

At the Railway we were on time. JO tall & beautiful in her clothes like Esther came down the platform swinging a tiny shiny shop bag on a cord on one finger- she looked happy & pleased with us-

A present for ANDRE- a tie- or a scarf- I am not sure this time.

We did not tell her JO- of our toffee eating. We were not too hungry for supper but say`th
nought- Perhaps we were cured of very sweet things-

He will make reference to these small matters in the decades ahead- he the Widower & then bridegroom of the 1947 Wedding of Grace -a wedding as he explains to the families

“ as my mother- my grandmother & aunt would have wished me make- A CATHOLIC WEDDING - to last for a lifetime-

“We tried to keep this from ANDRE but he came to hear...”

1937 SUMMER Clacton-on-Sea

ANDRE Saint George & I- we have got my yacht the Fortuna from the Old Road little house a small yacht of greengage green yellow Plimsoll line-it needs some rigging. I explain we did not own the Fortuna but sometimes took a share

It is rather a shabby little yacht well used but we will sail it on the shallow bigger end of the boating lake not through the arched bridge to the deep end for great yachts & bigger children with grown-ups.

We do not need to take the old pushchair but a basket a bag-our woollies tied round our waists-its not a hot afternoon & there might be a too fresh wind off the sea-We lock our little Old Road house I hugging my little yacht The Fortuna-

The sweet little house looks so drear without a fire soft lamps the wireless on- Daddy or a kind helper cooking-I make some apologies to Andre-aware he does not know what a vast interesting place it is when we are at home here with good people-humanists

How perhaps Lennie will suddenly come down if

SHEshe

is away at the Races.

We lock the door

& I try tell him of the happy times here for I do think he has heard too much of problems-Unity

s mother has had to say some things !

Across the Old Road & up the first road before the Quaker Enclave begins we go- Andre looking carefully either way on the Old Road which is the main road heading to the town-& I explain Road Drill to him as well-but do not risk his

wild Moon Eyes stare
by saying
`Oh in New York Lennie & I

In Santa Fe`
...
in Frederickstown Greenland
...

He believes I have dreams as he did when he was my young years !
I do not wish to upset his calm moonlight face as I notice he is getting quite very pretty to gaze upon & has become much younger & more his age & I might add I feel he is getting much cleverer than he is in PARIS

& China

...
The other morning as we got to the Seafront with the newspapers I noticed a pale pink wild rose flush on his cheeks
& his eyes gentle sparkling & not the `wild moonlight anguish look

...
Lennie & I will have to notice such things about people as we go about the JOYOUS
VENTURE & our GROTE HOMES

...
Len writes such things in his diary of the years & draws them-

When the Anabaptists-Nonconformists-the Quakers came & began their white wooden buildings they were tucked under the Rise from this Old Road which is sloping up gently to the flat cliff lands leading to the Holland Cliffs- & ahead from this Old Road they could walk to the seashores a few buildings-a Packet Boat came in- but no town of Clacton yet.
The farms hamlets spreading over towards Saint Osyth Priory
had fields in between.

I tell him Andre, she was a Princess Osyth & did not wish to marry! So her father built her a Convent with a Church.
I say that must be nice to have a Convent but I have a lot to do when I am grown & I think
I want to marry someone like POUL who was 6 feet & 5 inches tall-

ANDRE

becoming

Saint

George nods in understanding.

1970 I hear ANDRE MALRAUX telling Peter J. P. Whitehead in The Pillar House dining room Harwell Village-

“ Paul of Tarsus was all I could think she meant- she spoke of Thomas who went round the world with Jesus & Lucretius- She was 4 years- 6-7 months- She was in love with POUL- she gave me the spelling

(Yes there is a van that has Poulsen on in Essex-)

I did not connect a real island in the SNOW...it was bombed 1960 to stop us all- the families- opening it- I would as Legal Guardian have been able to get immediate help to defend it-we did not receive the documents-they went missing on the way to us in France the end of February ”.....

“ He Len..... He was told arrogantly by Denmark ‘he could rent it’ They began denying the Charters of 1770.`
