Walking with Colonel Andre Malraux Summer 1945

I will begin to tell him old histories of these ancient lands again -

& suggest we make a Camp here too ... Jo's beach is two stone-throws away...

'Here they gathered fishes & shell fishes beneath the Holland Cliffs & roasted them for suppers ...'

JO's BEACH is already named & a dear place to we three in 1937 - but I have little memory - he will begin to replace some ... & others about the town in the next year ...

HE SITS ON HER BEACH ALONE some days with his writings...while I am in school...

JOSETTE & her death - I have heard of her death winter 1944 & the letter came from Andre Malraux by December to his old friends the Winnlemanns... I Greta Ransom ... HAVE little or no MEMORY AT ALL OF THE PRE-WAR LIFE ... I am not allowed to see my father's letters by Mad Mother Kali...& her violence & hatred of me are evident ...

Nothing pleases her ... no amount of help ...
SHE DISAPPEARS OFF TO NOBLE FIENDS...

I find Professor Winnlemann before Xmas 1944 turning a letter over in his hands & he tells me he is in grief for a dear friend has had his young wife killed - & there are children very young... He & Mrs Winnlemann have just come to settle here by the sea
... he says the friend will come to see him when the War ends...
if he lives
... Mr Winnlemann explains the death may make his friend reckless ...although there are two baby sons to take care of ... so he is hopeful he will survive for their sake ...

This letter from Colonel Andre Malraux it must have come in a diplomatic bag or via the Free French London... Mr Winnlemann is a quite famous medical man Continental & London circles... children in hospitals suffering trauma comes into his field... a chauffeured car comes for him sometimes to take him to a London hospital ...

He had said to me that I reminded him of this young friend who wrote books ... this was soon after we met in the REC Summer 1944 when he called out phrases answering me in my Games of history... `Go forward- ride on...Yes we follow- We follow to the High Place of the Kings` ... He wore a hat with a feather which showed he was Austrian born I was told...he & his 20 years younger wife had their dear old dog that had been with them in Internment Camp Epsom Racecourse...she is English...

1945 May - We have a hero at the Winnclemanns home in a khaki brown battledress of FRANCE

...

& he puffs strong fags !

(the Winnclemanns have not yet opened this chemist shop called Murrays before the War ... this War finished last month...)

1945 May - It is Colonel ANDRE MALRAUX - whom I have said autumn 1944 I have known... `I have met him` ... upon seeing a photograph that Mr Winnclemann had taken of him & had printed with a tissue paper cover over the photo...

Mr Winnclemann thought

whom he calls ELSA from Wagner`s LOHENGRIN)

in a book in my father`s Greenland library ...

1940s - My memory fades & goes & never is fully linked up & I have evolved a system of symbolism to survive ! SHEshe TGR Mad Clytemnestra comes at me with weapons in her fists if I speak any memory of pre-WAR & she mocks horribly everyone including her own parents & their possessions their beliefs their friends-

Teresa Gordon Mad Mother KALI Riley R. is out of the PATTERN BOOK of madness that is NOBLE BRITAIN ...

She picks up anything to slash out at me with - saucepans, garden spade, Fire Irons or cricket bat- tools from the garage ... She emphasises that I am A PAUPER... « Old girl !
